If you think smart is sexy, you'll love Arlington, where scientific geniuses and government types dominate. The city is home to the Pentagon as well as numerous governmental research agencies, such as the National Science Foundation and Office of Naval Research. After hours, let your hair down and go for a pub crawl in the neighborhood of Clarendon: in addition to drinks, you'll find entertainment from live music to amateur stand-up comedy -- a surefire way to meet someone who can make you laugh.
